The school board has decided to employ a special teacher of penmanship. The supreme court met yesterday morning and got the business started.

John N. Baldwin is to speak in the Davis school house, Hardin township, Friday night. It is expected that the new opera house will be completed and opened by November 15.

Taylor & Califard are soon occupy the store lately used by Ticknor's meat market, on Broadway.

The fair here proved a financial success, though not so great a one as it would had the rain not interfered.

The Presbyterian church is being fenced in anew, not theologically, but practically and mechanically.

At a meeting of the school board Monday evening, F. O. Gleason was elected treasurer for the coming year and Chas. M. Harl secretary.

L. A. Casper, the gardener, has gone into florals also, and is just finishing building a greenhouse 100 by 55 feet, to be heated by steam.

A team belonging to a man named McHenry, took a run yesterday from Main street, near Kiehl's hotel, to Eighteenth street. No damage.

The dummy train seems to have run up Main street and clear to the Ogden house. It is a paper concern on the hill boards, advertising Cal Wagner for next Monday night.

It is now thought that it will be the first of October before the dummy runs up to Broadway, as there are side-tracks, sheds, a flagman's cupboard and a few other things to be built.

Next Saturday night John N. Baldwin is to speak for the Republicans at Bloom & Nixon's hall. He is a strong talker, and more than an ordinary political speech is to be expected.

The Odd Fellows' Protective Life association did not complete all of its business Monday night, and adjourned to Thursday night for a finish, and all interested should endeavor to be on hand then.

A fellow giving his name as John Miller, was arrested for smashing windows and raising a row at what is known as the "Three Nines," a disreputable sort of a place. He cost him $10 to settle his matter in court yesterday.

M. B. Brown, manager of the telegraph office, has been given the task of overhauling the electric fire alarm. If it is overhauled into the creek, the whole of it, and a new and reliable one put in its place, it would be a saving in the end.

Rachel Kennedy for threatening to shoot Mary Hoyt and Sarah Benson, has been held by Justice Abbott to keep the peace in the sum of $25 on each charge. She seems to have a terrible temper, and the other women claim to be afraid of her when she gets mad.

To-morrow night at Dohany's opera house there will be a happy social time indeed, as the Ancient Order of Hibernians give their grand ball at that time and place. No pains have been spared or money either to get good music and all the other needfuls for a first class ball and a joyous season.

Telephonic communication was perfectly and permanently established yesterday between here and Avoca and for a few days subscribers and business men generally will have a free chance to test its workings. After this chance of trial the regular rates will be charged, 30 cents for each chance to talk.

The Thurston Hosiery company, of Omaha, who won the state belt at Lincoln, have challenged the Bluff City boys for a hub and hurb race for $100 and half the gate money, the race to come off in Omaha. The Bluffs have accepted conditionally, on their running for $100 and the winning team to take all the gate money. Now it is the Thurston boys' turn to speak again.

A strange accident has befallen somebody's hunting dog, the owner not being yet discovered. The dog fell into an old well on Madison street, tumbling a depth of nearly a hundred feet, and yet not being killed, but was lying there, moaning painfully. At last reports he had neither been rescued nor put out of his misery. Something ought to be done to relieve the poor canine, surely.

The case of Harson, charged with manslaughter, in leaving the switch unhooked, thereby causing a fatal railway accident at Crescent City, was commenced before Judge Aylesworth yesterday afternoon. There are between thirty and forty witnesses present, and the facts are to be sifted pretty thoroughly. County Attorney High is attending to the prosecution, while G. A. Holmes and Wm. Mynter are looking after the defendant's interests.

The Rescue engine house has now been still further improved by the placing of doors at the entrance from the main room to the horses' stalls, to take the place of the chains formerly swung there to keep the horses from coming out. The horses frequently struck against these chains while standing in their stalls and on the chains being dropped at time of fire they are apt to catch in the hurry. The doors will keep the big heater from keeping the stalls too warm, will save the heat where it will do the most good, and at time of fire they fly open by an automatic arrangement, giving the horses a free chance to go the pole.

There never was a contest of any sort but what there was a kick at the tail end. Such a one now comes to the front with one about the decision of the newspaper men on "the boss girl." Now, if that unassisted soul thinks it is any enviable task to pick out "the boss girl" out of a score of deserving ones, and rip the battery of the bewitching yet mournful eyes of the disappointed ones, if he thinks there is any delight in feasting off the fair ones' cooking, and then voting slap-bang against her; if he thinks it is so easy and so pleasant, he can have at least one of the judges' places in the next "boss girl" contest. The Bee man resigns right off.

LOVE'S LINKS. Marriage of C. E. Adolf to Miss Annie Bechtele.

Yesterday afternoon a large number of ladies and gentlemen gathered at the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bechtele, on Washington avenue, in response to the invitation of that worthy and respected couple, requesting their presence at the marriage ceremony of their daughter Annie to Mr. C. E. Adolf.

After the guests had gathered in the parlors Miss Amelia Paschel played the Wedding March, and the bridal party entered and took positions in front of Rev. Father McMenomy. The bride was dressed in an elegant brocaded satin, of cream color, the dress cut en train. She wore a veil, and orange blossoms, with diamonds for jewelry. Miss Emma Lakowski served as bridesmaid, and appeared in a white satin and cashmere dress trimmed with natural flowers. Mr. Louis Bechtele, the brother of the bride served as groomsmen. Mr. John Adolph accompanied Mrs. Adolph, the mother of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Bechtele, the parents of the bride completed the group.

Rev. Father McMenomy gave a very impressive address, in which he briefly and clearly called attention to the sacredness as well as the joy of the vows about to be taken, and after they had made the mutual pledges, he pronounced them husband and wife. Congratulations and well wishes then poured in plenty and cordial, as might be expected from the friends of so worthy a young couple. The bride has been a favorite here from her early girlhood, while the young man who thus wins her has no less friends.

One of the most sumptuous feasts ever spread in a private residence in Council Bluffs was then served. The tables were beautiful in appearance, heavily adorned with flowers and pyramids of cakes and fruits, while in the center of that occupied by the bridal party was a pyramid surrounded by a wedding veil of pure white.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph left on last evening's train for Chicago and Milwaukee, intending to be absent about a week, and then return to make Council Bluffs their home, it is to be hoped, for years.

Among the guests and gifts on the occasion were: Parents of the bride, an elegant and complete silver tea set. Mother and brother of groom, an elegant silver water set, gold lined. Louis Bechtele, brother of bride, a handsome combined silver cake dish and caster.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Keller, elegant ebony statuary stand. Mr. and Mrs. L. Merkel, plush autograph album. Mr. and Mrs. L. Zimmerlin, elegant silver butter knife in plush case. Carrie and Amanda Zimmerlin, silver nut picks in case.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kettering, silver revolving butter dish. Mr. and Mrs. Leutzinger, silver and cut glass fruit stand. Lutz & Lange, the groom's employers, a pair of elegant French vases. Mrs. A. Darraugh and Mrs. J. C. Lee, a pair of bisque candle-sticks and fruit plate.

Mr. and Mrs. John Epeneter, elegant Japan teapot. Miss Becher, Omaha, Neb., silver card receiver. Mr. and Mrs. J. Mergen, silver butter dish. Mr. and Mrs. Mick Wack, silver pickle caster.

Mrs. Dr. Hilton, silver fish-slide, in handsome morocco case, satin-lined. Mr. and Mrs. E. Lakowski and daughters, handsome silver water pitcher. Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Kober, china fruit dish service. Maer & Craig, an elegant china fruit dish. Charles and Adolph Beno, an after-dinner coffee set.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schonentgen, elegant silver jewel casket. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Saung, handsome majolica china breakfast set. Mr. and Mrs. Groneweg, silver cake basket. Miss Mary and Amelia Paschal, elegant lemonade and punch server. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spetman, one dozen silver table spoons in handsome morocco case.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Stockert, handsome rosewood stand. Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Pfeiffer, handsome plush and gold centre table cover. Mr. and Mrs. P. Beck, elegant silver tete-a-tete.

Prof. J. J. Slattery, handsome silver pickle caster. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Coos, handsome cut-glass and silver fish dish. A. Lewter, card receiver. Mr. and Mrs. Gerner, set silver tea-spoons in handsome case. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Schwenger, silver oyster bowl.

L. C. Lange, R. P. Morse, R. C. Lange, P. L. Aywerda, one elegant set Dresden China fruit plates. Mrs. and Mrs. Emile Durr, silver berry and sugar spoon. Miss Mattie Saunders, St. Joe, Mo., elegant butter dish.

Mammoth Skating Rink. Plans are now ready for the mammoth, and work will commence at once on the grand, circus, roller skating, bicycle and gymnasium hall, 75 feet front by 192 feet deep. It will certainly be the palace of skating rinks, built on the same plan as the great Philadelphia rink, that is now running in Philadelphia. Season tickets are very cheap for first class families only. The floor of the rink will be of asphaltum so it can be flooded for ice in the winter season. The four gentlemen from the east are now here and will superintend the work on the grand enterprise. Wait but a short time and watch close for the four gentlemen from the east. W. R. S. A.

A SOBRIY HOUSEHOLD. A Destitute Family Who Should Be Looked After.

Attention has been called several times to a family by the name of Parrott, who have been living out doors on a vacant lot on Sixth Avenue and Ninth street. They pulled up stakes the other day and disappeared, but yesterday a scout for THE BEE being informed that there was a family living near the broom factory, in a very destitute condition, visited the place and found that they were the self same family, they having taken possession of a little house there, and got under shelter at least, but were still lacking the necessaries and comforts of life. The woman had just given birth to a child, and there huddled in the same room were the five other children, the married sister, and the man, who stands nominally as the head of the family, though from the appearance of the support he furnishes, it seems a poor head. This family is in filth and squalor beyond description. The children are growing up in rags and ignorance and it seems time that the authorities took some action by which the members of the family could be limited and those who are not self-supporting, except the man, should be cared for, while the man should be given some chance to work. The condition of the family is certainly a disgrace to such a city as Council Bluffs.

A CHANCE FOR LIGHT. Orders Now Being Taken Not for Stock but for the Light Itself.

The Arneux & Hochhauser Electric company is, through its Iowa company, proceeding to establish itself in this State, and has already a foothold in Des Moines and has now begun preparing for practical work here. M. G. Griffin is working up the business, and has already the assurance of several merchants, who say they will take business. Council Bluffs needs the electric light, and ought by all means to have it, unless it wants to sleep while other cities grow. The trouble with moves in the past has been that their agents wanted the very first thing to sell stock and organize a local company, and Council Bluffs folks who had money looked timidly at the enterprise.

The present work seems to be to secure bona fide subscribers, not to stock but to the light itself, who will agree to take it on certain conditions and under certain guarantees, so that they risk nothing, they simply pledging to pay for the light if it suits them. It is to be hoped that Council Bluffs will wake up on the electric light business, get the best they can get, and then patronize it liberally.

To strengthen and build up the system a trial will convince you that Brown's Iron Bitters is the best medicine made.
